 Sorry, I forgot to mention this but one piece of advice is to follow the structure of existing papers, such as these:

- <https://arxiv.org/pdf/2411.00316>
- <https://arxiv.org/pdf/2404.09048>

I often do this and it makes life easier. It helps to guide what you should be writing and so forth.

Thanks

Hi Piter, I made a bunch of updates to the paper. You should see my comments. I know that you're still in the writing stage, so I understand that many of my comments won't be applicable when you get a chance to clean things up. Also, I left some links to papers in the related works section. Please review those and summarize and compare the relevant papers.

Thanks
